On motion of mr. Everitt, resolved, that this house concur with the senate, respecting the time of holding the election, for senators to the congress of the United States.

Ordered, that the clerk of this house inform the senate thereof.

A message from his excellency the governor, by Mr. Walker, which being read by the speaker as follows.

Gentlemen of the senate and of the house of representatives, your present meeting will form a memorable epoch in our history, chosen to perform the first acts of legislation, for the state of Alabama, you cannot estimate too highly the great interests committed to your charge, or the important consequences which may flow from your deliberations. The people have framed a constitution which recognizes and establishes the essential principles of liberty: prescribes the manner in which the government shall be organized; and designates the powers which shall be exercised by the respective departments. To the legislature, is confided the arduous task of completing the edifice, and of enacting laws for the protection of the rights of persons, and of property, and for the advancement of the general welfare. Never has any state commenced its operations under more auspicious circumstances, or furnished stronger evidence in the outset of its capacity for self government; and I cherish the hope that the character of our institutions will receive an impulse from your labours, which may entitle you to the lasting gratitude of future ages.

Our country is remarkable for its natural advantages; and we possess the means of rendering it distinguished for the intelligence and moral habits of its citizens, and for the enlightened policy of its councils, the diffusion of knowledge among the people; a code of laws, adapted to the prevention of crimes, and the enforcement of the civil duties, expounded and executed by men selected for their wisdom and integrity; and a due regard to the improvement of those blessings which we owe to the bounty of providence, and which are presented in our soil, rivers, and climate, cannot fail to make us respectable abroad—prosperous and happy at home. Ignorance and civil liberty, are unnatural associates, where the people are the fountain of authority—the source whence all power is derived, for the direction of the public concerns, and the tribunal whose sentence is final and conclusive, it is indispensable to a just appreciation of their rights, and a correct exercise of their controul, that they be capable of discriminating between liberty and licentiousness—between invasions of their privileges and those salutary burthens and restraints, which are necessary to the general security.—It is such a state of society only, that honest statesmen can prosecute their plans for the promotion of the public good, with full confidence in the judgment of their constituents; or that the selfish views of designing demagogues will be detected and defeated. It is in such a state of society, that detraction and falsehood, weapons of faction, will be successfully opposed by the voice of truth, that merit will find a certain reward in the general approbation; that the sin of ingratitude so often ascribed to republics will be carefully avoided; that freemen will perceive and pursue their true interests; and that the best evidence will be afforded of the decisive advantages of our representative system over every other form of government. The real patriot who is ambitious to acquire that fame only which belongs to great and good actions, will always appeal to the virtue and intelligence of the community, while the artful seeker of popular favor addresses their passions and their prejudices; and as the one or the other prevail, so will the measures of the state be the offspring of enlarged and disinterested views, or of a narrow contracted policy, unworthy the character and ruinous to the interests of a free people.

So important to the advancement of republican principles has the distribution of knowledge been considered, that it is declared in an article of permanent compact between the original states and the people of the territories that Religion, morality and knowledge, being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall for ever be encouraged." And the congress have fully redeemed the pledge on the part of the United States. Seventy two sections or two entire townships of land to be designated by the Secretary of the Treasury, are reserved by law "for the use of a seminary of learning, and vested in the Legislature of this state," "to be appropriated solely to the use of such seminary." And the secretary is moreover authorized to select the two townships in small tracts consisting in not less than two sections each. I have been in the expectation of receiving intelligence from the seat of the general government respecting the selection, but owing to accidental causes, it has not yet reached me. As all the information necessary to enable you to Legislate on the subject, will probably arrive in a few days, I shall at a future period of your session, submit to your consideration the mode of appropriating the lands, which I consider the best calculated to advance the highly interesting object designed in the grant. In addition to the foregoing funds for the purpose of learning, the sixteenth section in every township (or if that has been disposed of) other lands equivalent thereto are "granted to the inhabitants of such townships for the use of schools." An act of Congress authorizes the county courts to provide for leasing the same, and limits the duration of the lease to the first of January, next succeeding the establishment of a state government. It is proper therefore that some legislative provision on the subject should be adopted to take effect from and after that period; and I perceive no objection to a continuance with the county courts the authority to lease, under the restrictions that the leases shall not extend beyond the term of two years, and that the proceeds shall be applied to the objects for which the grant has been made. In the mean time the country will be generally settled, and it may be advisable thereafter, to place the disposition of the fund, under the immediate control of the inhabitants of the respective townships.

The improvement of our rivers and roads, claim your particular attention. Five per cent. of the net proceeds of the lands within this state, which shall have been or may be sold by Congress, after the first day of September last (deducting all expenses incident to the same) is reserved for making public roads and canals, and for improving the navigation of rivers; of which three fifths are to be applied to those objects within this state under the direction of the legislature, and two fifths to the making of a public road or roads leading to the state, under the direction of Congress. And our constitution has enjoined that the "General Assembly shall make provision by law for obtaining correct knowledge of the several objects proper for improvement in relation to the navigable waters and to the roads of this state, and for making a systematic and economical application of the means appropriated to those objects." I recommend to your consideration the policy of providing by law for the appointment of a skillful engineer, whose duty it shall be to examine the rivers within our limits, and to report as soon as practicable, to what extent, in what manner, and what expense, the navigation of each may be improved, and also the nearest and most eligible approaches which can be made between the waters of the Tennessee and Mobile rivers.

A general revision of the existing statutes being called for by the late change in our political condition, it is needless and would be tedious to detail the various modifications which have become necessary. The organization of the judicial department and the appointment of judges will also require your early attention. If the primary object of laws are the "establishment of rights and the prohibition of wrongs," it is essential that the laws be calculated to attain those objects, and that they be properly expounded—rigidly and impartially executed. Defects in their execution are no less injurious to society, than defects in the laws themselves, and I feel confident that so far as depends on the legislative authority, every effort will be made to guard against both. The rights of the citizens can never be secure in any country or under any form of government, unless the judges in the last resort be men of integrity and intelligence. To obtain the services of such men, adequate provision for their support is indispensable. In times of great national danger and calamity it may be expected that every patriot, regardless of personal considerations, will devote himself to the public; but while the country is in profound peace, and the inhabitants are enjoying its blessings, we should not presume that competent citizens whose pecuniary resources are limited, can relinquish their domestic comforts for public honours, without due compensation. It would be unreasonable to expect it— unjust to desire it. Avoiding extravagance on the one hand, and parsimony on the other, salaries should be proportionate to the importance and labours of the offices, and to the talents which are necessary, and the unavoidable sacrifices which are incident to a correct discharge of its duties. Such a course of policy will render the public service equally accessible to the poor and to the rich, and will enable you to select from the best capacities of the country; while a penurious provision will exclude those classes whose fortunes are moderate, and whose talents furnish the means of providing for their families. So deeply involved in the course which may be pursued on this subject, do I consider the best interests of our infant state, and so fully am I convinced that the respectability and usefulness of our judiciary will depend on the compensation which may be allowed, that I would respectfully suggest the propriety of legislating on the subject before the judges are appointed.

In relation to the revision of the laws, it may be proper to remark, that the Territorial act providing for the punishment of offences committed on the Indian lands within our limits, but without the boundaries of the respective counties, cannot now be executed. That act authorizes the superior courts to proceed to the trial of offenders in any county to which they may be bro't; but the constitution of the state declares, that the accused shall be entitled "to a speedy trial by an impartial jury of the county or district in which the offence shall have been committed." It therefore follows, that to render offences cognizable by the courts, they must have been committed within the specified limits of a county. Full force however may be given to the law by annexing to the adjacent counties, all the country within the state not embraced in any county.

Among the duties expressly devolved on the General Assembly by the constitution, and the performance of which during the present session is absolutely required, are the appointment of a Secretary of State, an Attorney General, Solicitors, a Treasurer, and Comptroller of public Accounts, and the enactment of laws regulating elections. It is also enjoined that provision be made for organizing and disciplining the militia and for the appointment of the officers; for an enumeration of the inhabitants of the state; and for the appointment of a competent number of Justices of the Peace in the respective counties. You will perceive, moreover, the necessity of providing for the appointment of Coroner, Constables, Surveyors, Assessors and Collectors of taxes, and of such other county officers as you may deem expedient.

I am not in possession of the means of ascertaining whether any change in the present system of revenue will be required by the amount of public expenditures. The receipts into the Treasury will be laid before you by the proper officer, and you will be enabled to estimate the sum that will be necessary to meet the appropriations which may be authorized for the future.

The subject of arranging the permanent limits of the respective counties, so far as it may be practicable under existing circumstances is worthy of your consideration. Accommodations for the courts, and houses for securing offenders will not be provided, while the seats of justice are temporary; and such is the extent of some of the counties that a large portion of the inhabitants are deprived of the benefits of government.

That the state may be represented in the Senate of the United States at an early period of their session, it is desirable that the Senators should be elected as soon as your deliberations will permit.

Herewith I lay before you a statement of the accounts between this state and the state of Mississippi, together with explanatory letters on the subject. The copies of the Digests of the laws which are charged in the account have been recently received and distributed.

Having been informed by a communication from an officer of the United States that the quota of arms for the present year, to which this state is entitled under an act of Congress, is three hundred and four, and that they would be forwarded to any place (the most convenient for water carriage) I might think proper to designate, I gave instructions that they should be shipped to the town of Mobile. The act under the authority of which the arms have been procured, makes provision for arming and equipping the whole body of the militia of the United States, and appropriates for that purpose, the annual sum of two hundred thousand dollars. All the arms obtained in virtue of the Act, are to be transmitted to the several States and Territories in proportion to the number of effective militia in each, and are to be distributed to the militia "under such rules and regulations as shall be by law prescribed by the legislature of each state and territory." It is therefore the province of the General Assembly to adopt the necessary measures for carrying into effect the object of the national Legislature.

Pursuant to the provision of an act of the last General Assembly, appointing the Governor a commissioner to lay off, or cause to be laid off, on such plan as he should deem most suitable, a town at the junction of the rivers Alabama and Cahawba, and offer the lots for sale to the highest bidder, one hundred and eighty-two lots were sold during the fourth week of May last, for the sum of one hundred and twenty-three thousand eight hundred and fifty-six dollars; of which thirty thousand nine hundred and sixty-four dollars (being one fourth part) was received at the time of the sale, together with fifty-one dollars and twenty-five cents, being the second instalment of lot No. 53; amounting in the whole to thirty-one thousand and fifteen dollars and twenty-five cents. The expences of surveying, of sale, &c. as appears by the receipts of Willis Roberts and Benjamin Clements, were seven hundred and thirty dollars, leaving thirty thousand two hundred and eighty-five dollars twenty-five cents; of which twenty thousand four hundred and five dollars were paid over to the territorial Treasurer. One hundred and twenty dollars have been since drawn to complete the payment of the expenses before stated: leaving in the treasury twenty thousand two hundred and eighty-five dollars twenty-five cents. Ten thousand dollars were deposited in the Planter's and Merchant's Bank of Huntsville, and will be expended in the erection of a temporary State House at the town of Cahawba, for which a contract was made in the month of May last. Of that sum three thousand dollars have been drawn and placed in the hands of an agent in Cahawba, to be advanced to the contractor in conformity to the terms of agreement.— The principal parts of the buildings are to be finished on or before the first day of August next, for nine thousand dollars? and the remainder of the sum appropriated, will be required, and is sufficient to complete the whole, and to provide the necessary accommodations for the two branches of the Legislature. I learn that the building has been commenced, and that no doubt is entertained of its completion within the time specified in the contract.

In lieu of the section of land previously reserved for the seat of the territorial or state government, we are indebted to the liberality of congress for the donation of sixteen hundred and twenty acres for the same object, consisting of sundry fractions and a quarter section: lying on both sides of the Alabama and Cahawba rivers, and including the mouth of the river Cahawba."—There being two ferries, and a few acres of land prepared for cultivation within the limits of the grant, they have been rented until the first of January next, for one thousand and four dollars. Twenty dollars have been paid, which, with bonds to the amount of nine hundred and eighty four dollars, I have deposited in the treasury. The very liberal and unprecedented donation we have received, will if judiciously managed, produce a fund of at least three hundred thousand dollars—a sum amply sufficient to provide permanent buildings and accommodations for the several departments of the government, and to defray the expences of erecting other works for the public convenience. I consider it advisable that authority be given to lay off and offer for sale an additional number of lots in the town of Cahawba; and that provision be made for the appointment of commissioners to take charge of the public property, and to exercise such powers as are usually granted to corporate towns.

I cannot close this communication without adverting to the signal favors which have been bounteously extended towards us, by the great author of every good. Abundant crops have rewarded the labours of the husbandman; and we are permitted to enjoy the blessings of liberty, peace and plenty. No people ever had stronger incentives to improve their means of happiness, or were under greater obligations to manifest their devout gratitude to the ruler of the universe. In discharging the high trust to which we have been called, let us not be unmindful that the future prosperity of our country is essentially concerned in the councils of the present day; and discharging all local jealousies and party animosities, let us unite as members of the same family having a common interest in directing our minds and our efforts to the advancement of the general welfare. So far as depends on me you may rely on every cooperation which can be rendered by good intentions, united with a zealous devotion to the public interest.

W. W. BIBB.

Huntsville, October 26, 1819.

On motion of Mr. Townes, resolved, that one hundred copies of the governor's message be printed for the use of this house as soon as practicable.

On motion of Mr. Walker, resolved, that the documents accompanying the governor's message be read.

Whereupon, the Hon. speaker proceeded to read them.

On motion of Mr. Fitzpatrick, of Autauga, resolved, that this house will form itself into a committee of the whole, on Friday next, at 12 o'clock, on the governor's message.

On motion of Mr. Townes, resolved, that the documents accompanying the governor's message, lie on the table.

On motion of Mr. Everitt, resolved, that this house adjourn until to-morrow, 10 o'clock.

Wednesday, October 27th.

The house met according to adjournment.

On motion of Mr. Walker, resolved, that a military committee be appointed, and added to the standing committee.

On motion of Mr. Lamkin, resolved, that the military committee, consist of seven members.—Messrs. Lamkin, Exum, Walker, Everitt, Perkins, Dillahunt and Harrison, were appointed.

On motion of Mr. Weedon, resolved, that a judiciary committee, be appointed and added to the standing committee.

On motion of Mr. Townes, resolved, that Mr. Weedon's motion be reconsidered.

Mr. Birney moved to amend the resolution, by adding the words (at this time) and the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative, the question was then taken on the resolution as amended, and was decided in the negative.

Mr. Birney gave notice, that on to-morrow, he would ask leave to bring in a bill, entitled, "an act to amend an act, entitled an act, for the government of gin holders, and for other purposes."

Mr. Owen from the committee appointed to draft rules for the government of this house, made the following report.

Rule 1st.—The speaker shall take the chair every day, at the hour to which the house shall have adjourned, on the preceding day; shall immediately call the members to order, and on the appearance of a quorum, cause the journals of the preceding day to be read.

2d.—He shall preserve order and decorum, may speak to points of order in preference to other members, rising from his chair for that purpose. He shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the house, at the request of any two members, which appeal shall be decided without debate.

3d.—He shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting, all questions shall be distinctly put in this form, viz. as many as are of opinion that (as the question may be) say aye; and after the affirmative voice is expressed, as many as are of the contrary opinion, say no. If the speaker doubts, or a division be called for, the house shall divide, those of the affirmative of the question, shall first rise from their seats, and afterwards those of the negative.

4th.—He shall have a right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitutions shall not extend beyond an adjournment.

5th.—Fifteen members shall have power to call a house and send for absent members, a majority shall be a quorum to transact business, and seven members after the hour of twelve, may adjourn from day to day.

6th.—When a member is about to speak or deliver any matter to the house, he shall rise from his seat, and respectfully address himself to Mr. Speaker.

7th.—If any member in speaking or otherwise transgress the rules, the speaker shall, or any member may call to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain, and the house shall, if applied to, decide on the case, but without detail. If the decision be in favour of the member so called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed, if otherwise, and the case require it, he shall be liable to the censure of the house.

8th.—When two or more members happen to rise at the same time, the speaker shall name the person who is first to speak.

9th.—No member shall speak more than twice to the same question without leave of the house, nor more than once, until every member choosing to speak, shall have spoken.

10th.—When the speaker is putting a question or addressing the house, none shall walk across the room, nor when a member is speaking, enter in private discourse, nor pass between him and the chair.

11th.—Upon calls of the house for taking the yeas and nays on any question, the names of the members shall be called alphabetically, and each member shall answer from his seat.

12th.—When a motion is made and seconded, it shall be stated by the speaker, or if in writing, shall be read aloud by the clerk, and every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the speaker or any member request it.

13th.—Any member may call for a division of the question, when the sense will admit of it.

14th.—Each member shall particularly forbear personal reflections, nor shall any member name another in argument or debate.

15th.—After a motion is stated by the speaker or read by the clerk, it shall be deemed in possession of the house, but may be withdrawn at any time before the decision or amendment.

16th.—When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received, but to adjourn, to postpone to a day certain, to lie on the table for the previous question, to postpone indefinitely, to commit or amend which several motions, shall have precedence in the order they stand arranged.

17th.—A motion to adjourn shall be always in order, and shall be decided without debate.

18th.—The previous question shall be in this form, shall the main question be now put. It shall only be admitted when demanded by a majority of the members present, and until it is decided, shall preclude all amendments, and further debate of the main question. On a previous question there shall be no debate.

19th.—When a motion has been once made, and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member of the majority, to move for the reconsideration thereof; on the same or the succeeding day.

20th.—The house shall resolve itself into a committee of the whole when deemed necessary, and when in committee of the whole, shall be governed by the foregoing rules, except that in committee of the whole, any member may speak as often as he may think proper.

21st.—The speaker may appoint committees, unless otherwise directed by the house.

22nd.—The speaker shall vote on all questions, and when the yeas and nays are desired, the speaker shall be first called, and if the house shall be equally divided, the question shall be lost.

23d.—No member shall absent himself from the service of the house unless he have leave, be sick or unable to attend.

24th.—Upon a call of the house the names of the members shall be called over by the clerk, and the absenters without leave, noted; one hour after which, the names of the absentees shall again be called over, and those for whom no excuse or an insufficient excuse is made, may by order of those present if fifteen in number, be taken into custody as they appear, or may be sent for and taken into custody when to be found.

25th.—After the journals are read on each day, petitions shall be called for by the chair, next reports of the standing committees, and lastly, the reports of select committees, except the committee of enrollments, who may report at any time during the session of the house, when not excluded by some other urgent motion.

26th.—Motions and reports may be committed at the pleasure of the house.

Of Bills.

27th.—Every bill shall be introduced by motion, for leave or by an order of the house; on the report of a committee; and in either case, a committee to prepare the same, shall be appointed—in cases of a general nature one day's notice at least shall be given of the motion to bring in a bill: and every such motion may be committed.

28th.—All bills shall be dispatched in order, as they were introduced, unless when the house shall otherwise direct.

29th.—Upon the second reading of a bill the speaker shall state it, as ready for commitment or engrossment; and if committed; then the question shall be, whether to a select or standing committee, or to a committee of the whole house, if to a committee of the whole house, the house shall determine on what day.

30th.—After commitment and report thereof to the house, or at any time before its passage, a bill may be recommitted.

31st.—When a bill shall pass, it shall be certified by the clerk, noting the day of its passage at the foot thereof.

32nd.—In forming a committee of the whole house, the speaker shall leave his chair, and a chairman to preside in committee, shall be appointed by the speaker.

33d.—Upon a bill being committed to a committee of the whole house, the same shall be first read throughout, by the clerk, and then again read and debated by clauses; leaving the preamble to be last considered. After report, the bill shall again be subject to debate and amendment by clauses, before the question for engrossing it be taken.

34th.—All amendments made to an original motion in committee, shall be incorporated with the motion and so reported.

35th.—All questions, whether in committee or in the house, shall be disposed of in the order in which they were moved; except that in filling up the blanks, the largest sum, and the most remote day, shall be first put.

36th.—The rules of proceeding in the house, shall be observed in committee so far as they may be applicable, except that of limiting the time of speaking.

37th.—A majority of any committee shall be a sufficient number to proceed to business.

38th.—When ever it shall be necessary for a communication to be made from the house of representatives, to the senate, the speaker shall appoint one or more members to bear the same.

39th.—When the house adjourns no member shall leave his seat, until the speaker has gone forth.

40th.—No committee shall sit during the sitting of the house, without special leave.

41st.—The clerk of the house shall take an oath for the true and faithful discharge of the duties of his office, to the best of his knowledge and abilities, and shall be deemed to continue in office, until another be appointed: which oath shall be administered by the speaker.

42nd.—No standing order shall be rescinded without one day's notice, given of the motion therefor.

43d.—Whoever violates any of the foregoing rules shall suffer such censure as a majority of the house may direct.

On motion of Mr. Vaughn, the house resolved itself into a committee of the whole, to take into consideration the said report, Mr. Townes in the chair,

And after some time spent therein, Mr. Speaker resumed the chair, and Mr. Townes reported, that the committee of the whole had, according to order, had the said report under consideration, and had amended the same by striking out the 43d rule as reported by the select committee, and adding the following in lieu thereof, viz. when this house adjourns without specifying any particular hour, it shall stand adjourned until 10 o'clock on the succeeding day, except the adjournment be on Saturday, and then it shall stand adjourned until 10 o'clock, the monday following.

To which amendment he asked the concurrence of the house, and the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative.

The question was then taken on the adoption of the rules as reported by the select committee, as amended in committee of the whole and decided in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. Byler, ordered that one hundred copies of the rules be printed for the use of this house.

On motion of Mr. Owen, resolved, that a committee of three be appointed on the part of this house, to act with such committee as the senate may appoint to draft rules for the government of both houses, whereupon, messrs. Owen, Birney and Chapman were appointed.

On Motion of Mr. Davis, Resolved, that a committee of three members be appointed to superintend the printing and examine the proof sheet of the standing rules for the government of this house; whereupon Messrs. Davis, Weedon and Perkins were appointed.

Mr. Dillahanty presented the petition of Eliza F. Michaux, Robert G. Mosley and Robert B. Cary, representatives, and guardians to the heirs of Daniel W. Michaux deceased, praying permission to sell certain lands lying in the county of Lawrence for the benefit of the heirs—which on motion of Mr. Dillahanty, was referred to a select committee—whereupon Messrs. Dillahanty, Townes and Chapman, were appointed.

On motion of Mr. Fitzpatrick, ordered, that this house adjourn until tomorrow 10 o'clock.

The house met pursuant to adjournment.

A message from the senate by their secretary—Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the house of representatives: The senate concur in the resolution adopted by your honorable body, proposing the appointment of a committee for the purpose of contracting for the printing of the laws and journals of the General Assembly, together with such printing as may be required, and have appointed messrs. Gause and Rose, for that purpose on their part.

They also concur in the resolution of your honorable body, proposing the appointment of a committee for the purpose of examining and reporting the most convenient and eligible rooms that can be obtained for the accommodation of both houses of the General Assembly, as well as the terms on which such rooms can be had, and have appointed messrs. Terrell and Sims, on their part for that purpose to act with gentlemen appointed by your honorable body.

Further, the senate have adopted the following resolution, in which they desire your concurrence.

Resolved, that five members be appointed on the part of the senate to act with such gentlemen as may be appointed on the part of the house of representatives, as a committee of finance, and have appointed on their part for that purpose messrs. Farmer, Trotter, Rose, Moore and Chambers.

They have also adopted the following resolution, in which they likewise desire your concurrence.

Resolved, that a committee of enrolled bills to consist of three members, be appointed to act jointly with such committee as may be appointed by the house of representatives, and have appointed messrs. Moore, Rose and Ware, on their part for that purpose.

The senate have also adopted the following resolution, in which they desire your concurrence.

Resolved by the senate and house of representatives, that in all elections by the General Assembly, the members of both houses will assemble in the representative chamber, and that the names of the members of each house shall be called by their respective clerks, and the votes noted by the president of the senate and speaker of the house of representatives, whereupon the speaker shall announce the result; and then he withdraw.

On motion of Mr. Owen, resolved, that this house do now take up the resolution of the senate respecting elections by the General Assembly, of senators to Congress, and that the rest of the resolutions first received from the senate do lie on the table.

On motion of Mr. Chapman, resolved, that this house disagree to the resolution of the senate respecting the election of senators to Congress of the United States.

On motion of Mr. Chapman, resolved by the senate and house of representatives of the state of Alabama, in General assembly convened, that in all elections by the General Assembly, the votes shall be given for one election only at the same time, and that the majority of the whole number of votes shall be necessary to a choice; that the members of both houses will assemble in the representative chamber, and that the names of the members of each house, shall be called by their respective clerks—Whereupon the president of the senate, and speaker of the house of representatives shall ascertain the result: which shall be announced by the speaker of the house of representatives.

Mr. Cleveland from the committee of privileges and elections, made the following report to wit;

On motion of Mr. Davis, resolved that this house stand adjourned until 3 o'clock P. M.

3 o'clock P. M. the house met pursuant to adjournment.

Mr. John Coats a member from the county of Warren, appeared and produced the necessary credentials and took his seat.

On motion of Mr. Owen, ordered that this house adjourn until tomorrow 10 o'clock A. M.

FRIDAY, Oct. 29, 1819.

The house met pursuant to adjournment.

Mr. Daris from the committee appointed to procure rooms, &c. for the accommodation of both houses of the legislature, made the following report.

The joint committee to whom was confided the examination and report of the most convenient rooms for the accommodation of both branches of the Legislature, as well as the terms on which such rooms can be had, Report that the room now occupied by the representative branch can only be retained a few days, at 10 dollars per day. Two rooms sufficiently spacious, having one chimney place each, within the Huntsville Inn, have been examined, neither of which will be rented unless both are taken at sixteen dollars per day, chairs and fuel inclusive. Two large sheet iron stoves with a small one (if necessary) for the use of the Speaker, can be procured, in this place, fitted up for use by monday next, on the lower floor of the court-house, for sixty dollars. A large cast iron stove is prepared for the senatorial chamber now occupied, and which on the suggestion of the representative house can be exchanged for one of sheet iron. Your committee therefore can have no hesitancy in reporting the lower floor of the court-house to be the most proper apartment for the representative branch, and the room now occupied by the senate to be the most convenient for the accommodation of that body—which was ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. Murrell presented the petition of sundry inhabitants of the town of Coffeeville, praying to be incorporated: which was ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. Owen presented the petition of sundry inhabitants of the county of Monroe, praying a road from Pine orchard to Claiborne, which was ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. Byler informed the house that he would ask leave to bring in a bill on tomorrow, to prevent abuses in taking up strays.

Mr. Dillahunt from the committee to whom was referred the petition of the administratrix and administrator of Daniel W. Michaux, reported a bill granting the prayer of said petition, read the first time and made the order of the day for tomorrow.

A bill to incorporate the town of Triana was read a second time, and ordered to be engrossed for its third reading.

A message from the senate by their secretary, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the house of representatives, The senate to the report of the joint committee, appointed to examine and report the most eligible and convenient place that can be obtained for the accommodation of both houses of the General Assembly as well as the place in which said rooms can be had.

Signed

F. A. ROGERS, sec'y of senate,

Mr. Speaker laid before the house the report of Jack E. Ross, Esq. Treasurer of the Alabama Territory, which was as follows :

Treasury Office, Huntsville, 29th Oct. 1819.

The honorable Speaker of the house of representatives of the state of Alabama :

SIR:—In conformity with an act regulating the Treasury department, I have the honor to transmit herewith to the house of representatives two statements marked A. & B. exhibiting the state of the 'Treasury from the commencement of the Territorial Government up to this date.

The state of the treasury for the year 1818, was examined by a committee appointed at the last session of the Territorial Legislature for that purpose, but owing to the late change from a territorial to a state government, I have deemed it expedient to lay before the Legislature at their first session a full account of all the receipts into the office, since its organization, together with its disbursements for the same period.

In addition to the statements herewith transmitted, I have the honor further to state, that I have received from his Excellency the Governor in conformity with the 6th section of an act providing for the temporary and permanent seat of government, a return of the sale of one hundred and eighty two lots, by him sold during the 4th week in May last, with the price of each, and the names of the purchasers, by which it appears that there is due the state on the second, third and fourth instalments the sum of 92,840 dollars and twenty-five cents, I have also received of his Excellency the Governor, bonds on different individuals to the amount of nine hundred and eighty eight dollars, for the rent of ferries on the Alabama and Cahawba rivers at the town of Cahawba, and for the rent of a part of the tract of land given to the state for the seat of government, which will fall due on the first of January next—

I have the honor to be respectfully, your obedient servant.

(Signed,)

JACK F. ROSS,

State Treasurer.

A message from the senate by Mr. Casey—Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the house of representatives, the senate have adopted the following resolution to which they ask your concurrence: Resolved that a committee be appointed to join such committee as may be appointed by the representative branch, to wait on his excellency the Governor and inform him that both branches will convene in the representative chamber to administer to him the oath of office. forthwith; and have appointed on their part for that purpose, messrs. Casey, Chambers and Sims; which on motion of Mr. Owen, was concurred in, and messrs. Davis and Saffold were appointed a committee on the part of this house for that purpose.

On motion it was ordered that the senate be informed thereof, as also that the house is now ready to receive the senate.

The gent. of the senate being announced the members of the house of representatives arose and the senate having taken the seats assigned them—His excellency Wm. W. Bibb, Governor. was announced, when both branches arose. His Excellency entered the bar of the house, and Mr. Speaker, as by law directed, administered the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution, after which His Excellency the Governor arose and addressed himself to both branches, as follows, to wit.

Gentlemen, I avail myself of this occasion to express my acknowledgements for the proof which has been afforded me, of the public confidence. Called by the voice of our fellow-citizens, to the chief magistracy of the state, I proceed to the station with a full conviction of its high responsibilities, and with a sincere desire to promote the welfare of the country, and the happiness of the people.

We have entered on the exercise of the rights of self government, and I am persuaded, that no one has stronger inducements, to rejoice at the change in our political condition, than the individual who addresses you. A territorial government can never be acceptable to any portion of the American community : and such is the nature and extent of the powers delegated to the executive, that his acts are always viewed with suspicion and jealousy. His best deeds are seldom correctly estimated, and his unintentional errors are often ascribed to unworthy motives.

Happily for all concerned, these sources of collision and distrust, are now removed ; and we behold the gratifying spectacle of the representatives of a free people erecting and establishing the temple of Liberty.

United to the great family of American States : possessing ample resources for the advancement of learning and the diffusion of knowledge : blessed with a country abounding in navigable waters, and rich in the advantages of soil and climate, we surely cannot contemplate the high destiny that awaits us, without sentiments of profound gratitude, and without a firm determination to cherish and support a government of our choice, under which alone, such distinguished blessings can be enjoyed.

On my part I solemnly declare, that my best exertions shall be devoted to the promotion of virtue and intelligence, the only sure basis of all free institutions ; to the encouragement of obedience to the laws : to the cultivation of harmony and good will among ourselves, and with the public functionaries of our sister states, and of the United States ; to the improvement of those natural advantages with which we are so bountifully supplied ; and to the accomplishment of every object, which according to my deliberate judgment, may tend to elevate the character of our state, and to establish its true and permanent interests. After which his Excellency withdrew.

On motion of Mr. Everitt the house adjourned.

A message from the senate by Mr. Garth,—Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the house of representatives,

The senate have passed a resolution, authorizing the secretary of state to cause to be printed two thousand copies of the caption of the acts, and joint resolutions passed during the present session, to which they desire your concurrence.

Mr. Lee from the committee of accounts, reported that said committee had had under consideration the account of John Boardman for sundry printing during the present session, amounting to ninety-one dollars, and on examination are of opinion that some of the charges are too high, and recommend that eighteen dollars be deducted therefrom. Also the account of William Leech for making railings for the lobby of the house, &c. amounting to ten dollars, which account we think reasonable and ought to be granted. Also the account of Jonas J. Bell, for stationary, &c. amounting to thirty seven dollars, which account we think reasonable and ought to be granted. Also the account of Samuel K. McGran, for furnishing two sheet iron stoves and pipes, at twenty-five dollars each, which account we think unreasonable, and recommend that twenty dollars be deducted therefrom. Also sundry accounts of Danl. Rather, for stationary, amounting to one hundred and three dollars, which account we think reasonable and ought to be granted. Also the account of Gloss and Hudnall, for making tables, benches, &c. amounting to one hundred and eighty-five dollars and twenty-five cents, which account we think unreasonable and ought not to be granted, and we recommend forty-five dollars to be deducted therefrom. Also the account of Hosant Willis for rent of fifty chairs, amounting to fifty dollars, which account we think unreasonable and ought not to be granted, and recommend that twenty-five dollars be deducted therefrom. Also the account of John K. Dunn, amounting to one hundred and twenty-two dollars and fifty cents which we think unreasonable, and recommend that twenty-three dollars and fifty cents be deducted therefrom. Also the account of William K. Dunn, for the hire of a stove for the use of the senate, which account we believe unreasonable and ought not to be granted,—all of which accounts are herewith transmitted.

Mr. Lee from said committee reported a bill making appropriations to certain persons therein named, which was read the first time, and four fifths of the house concurring, said bill was read a second time forthwith.

A message from the senate by Mr. Watkins—Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the house of representatives: The senate have passed a bill to incorporate the town of Mobile—and to authorise elections in the county of Jackson.

And a resolution authorizing the secretary of state to contract for the public printing, and for other purposes. And an act concerning forthcoming and replevy bonds, to which they desire your concurrence.

Mr. Byler from the select committee appointed to draught a memorial to the Congress of the U. States, praying indulgence on the lands heretofore bought from government, reported the following memorial, with the resolution, to wit:

To the Senate and House of Representatives, of the Congress of the United States:

The Legislature of the State of Alabama, respectfully, represent—that after the close of the glorious and successful war on the part of this nation, against Great Britain, the establishment of a general peace in Europe, and the consequent revival of commerce throughout the world, cotton the staple article of this state, rose to a very high price, and obtained ready sale in European markets—at the same period, the country was inundated with the notes of various state banks, and a very large amount of Mississippi stock, which by law had been made receivable in payment of public lands in the state of Mississippi, and the then Territory of Alabama, was also in circulation and obtainable upon easy and accommodating terms to purchasers: amidst circumstances so propitious for the United States and unfortunate for the citizens of this infant state, was a portion of the public land within our limits offered for sale by the government to the highest bidder. Attracted by the fertility of our soil and stimulated by the desire of participating in the great profits which the growing of cotton promised to the planter, people from almost every state in the union thronged to the public sales loaded with bank notes and Mississippi stock—the consequences were such as the circumstances was naturally calculated to produce. The lands sold for high and extravagant prices, and an immense debt is now owing by the citizens to the government of the United States. The untried result of a general peace, have baffled the calculations of the most prudent and sagacious merchants in the world. A general derangement of the money system has taken place, commerce has languished, our staple commodity has fallen to less than half the price it maintained at the time of those sales. Many of the state banks then in high credit have since entirely failed, and others to protect themselves against similar fate, have been compelled to curtail their discounts and call in their notes from circulation, even the bank of the United States which promised in its commencement a sound, a safe circulation and an equality of exchange, has also been constrained to diminish the circulation of its notes until they are as scarce as gold and silver, which we rarely see, the metallic currency of the country is locked up in the vaults of the banks, and the community is left without a currency sufficient for the ordinary purposes of trade. In addition to all these circumstances, it is expected that your honorable body will at the present session of congress, change the mode of selling publick land by reducing the minimum price, and requiring the whole purchase money to be paid in advance. Although such a law may be wise and politic, it must have the effect of producing great inequality between those who have heretofore purchased under so many disadvantages, and those who may hereafter purchase under circumstances so favorable. Therefore, we respectfully represent, to enact such a law, would be impolitic. Believing as your memorialists do, that it cannot be the policy of the United States to exact from her citizens, such forfeiture or to enforce the full extent of contracts made under circumstances altogether favorable to the government, and unfavorable to the citizens—and believing also, that the interest of the government would not be subserved by such a policy. We therefore respectfully pray, that a law may be passed by your honorable body, extending such relief to the purchasers of public lands in this state as you in your wisdom, may think most advisable.

Resolved, by the senate and house of representatives of the state of Alabama. in General Assembly convened, that the Governor of this state be, and he is hereby requested to forward one of the copies of the foregoing memorial to each of our senators and one copy to our representative in the Congress of the United States, with a request that they will exert themselves to procure such relief to the purchasers of public lands in this state, as the wisdom of the Congress of the United States may think proper to grant—which resolution, was read the first time, and four fifths of the house concurring, the rule was dispensed with, said resolution was read the second and third time forthwith and passed. Ordered, that the same be sent to the senate, for their concurrence.

The house proceeded to the consideration of the joint resolution sent from the senate, authorising the secretary of state to contract for the public printing, which was read the first time, and four fifths of the house concurring, the rule was dispensed with, and the said resolution was read a second and third time forthwith and passed. Ordered, that the same be returned to the senate informing them thereof.

The house took up the bill concerning forthcoming and replevy bonds, which was read the first time, and four fifths of the house concurring, the rule was dispensed with, and said bill was read a second time forthwith. Mr. Everett moved that said bill be postponed until the first monday in November next, which was decided in the negative—the ayes and nays being called for on said question, they were as follows :

AYES—messrs. Speaker, Isaac Brown, Bates, Cleveland, Creigh, Carson, Coats, Everitt, J. Fitzpatrick, Hill King, Lee, Murrell, McBee, Matterson, Owen, Peters, Seargent, Thomason, Wilson and Winston, 20. NOES—messrs.
